- The scoring points you earn are converted into ranking points by a percentage process. (see below).
- The ranking point system ensures all judges' scores carry equal value.
- Every single challenge has the same weight in the overall points system.

RANKING POINT SYSTEM

Overview

- At the Global Finals we have different challenges, changing categories, and of course the variances of each individual judge's scoring styles. To get consistency with so many variables and to ensure fairness when a few points difference means victory or defeat it is essential we use a ranking points system.

Procedure

WORLD CLASS
 INDIA

- We add up the scoring points in a challenge and take the highest score from the bartender for each judge. That top score becomes the benchmark for all other participants for that individual judge.
- Every single judge has a separate total of ranking points, although they can have the same winner.
- Each judge marks the participants and then their highest-scoring participant earns a maximum of 100 ranking points. Each participant earns ranking points relative to the winner in the challenge as a percentage of the leading score.

NAME	JUDGE 1			JUDGE 2			JUDGE 3			CHALLENGE TOTAL
	Score	Lead Score	Ranking Points	Score	Lead Score	Ranking Points	Score	Lead Score	Ranking Points
1 bartender 1	98	126	77.78	88	115	76.52	102	120	85.00	79.77

15 bartender 15	113	126	89.68	96	115	83.48	99	120	82.50	85.22

- In the above example you can see that each of the judges had a different high score, these were respectively 126 for bartender #11, 115 for bartender #3, and 120 for bartender #5.
- All the other bartenders get ranking points as a % of the lead score from each judge.
- In the total column all of the scores are added together and then divided by the number of judges.
- Bartender #11 came highest with combined ranking points of 97.49 (this bartender came 1st for Judge 1, 2nd for Judge 2 and 3rd for Judge 3).
